The weather forecast for the next week calls for evening temperatures in the low 40-50s and daytime highs in the low 80s. Colder temps expected for the weekend in the mid 30s and on Friday rain in the central and northern areas.

Very light deliveries this week with mostly Natives and a few Elliott and Blends. Harvest and sales of large lots are under contract with most destined for export. The retail and gift pack trade is fairly brisk, but light volumes have buyers searching elsewhere for pecans.

Prices paid to growers (as of Tuesday, November 8, 2016 through late afternoon Tuesday, November 15, 2016) at buyers delivery point or F.O.B. the orchard including direct sales to end users, cents per pound in-shell of generally good quality in lots of 20,000 pounds or less unless otherwise stated.

Native/Seedlings (deliveries very light) machine harvested 100-125 mostly 125 occasional high as 150-160, yard tree lots 75-80 mostly 80 occasional higher fair quality lower

THE NEXT LOUISIANA PECAN REPORT IS SCHEDULED TO BE RELEASED TUESDAY NOVEMBER 22, 2016.

TEXAS (Central, South, Eastern Areas) (via Phoenix, Arizona)

Deliveries by growers to delivery points of Improved varieties were very light. Demand was fairly good for good quality pecans. Cheyenne, Choctaw, Kiowa, Pawnee and Wichita are currently being harvested, as well as Natives. Harvesting is expected to increase during the weeks leading up to Christmas.

The weather forecast for the next week calls for a very wide range in temperatures, with low temperatures ranging from the low 70s down to the upper 30s, and highs from the upper 50s to mid-80s. There is a 10-50% chance of precipitation on Friday, November 18, and a no greater than 10% chance of precipitation the rest of the week. Overall quality of early pecan offerings have been average.

Demand was good for the retail and gift pack trade. Due to light volumes, buyers are making purchases from other production areas or are waiting for additional availability of pecans.

Prices paid to growers (as of Tuesday, November 15, 2016) at buyers delivery point or F.O.B. the orchard including direct sales to end users, cents per pound in-shell of generally good quality in lots of 20,000 pounds or less unless otherwise stated.
